- DISTORTION: Avoidance and denial of the dynamics. Deep tension, fence sitting, flip-flopping, stagnation. Default consciousness until addressed.
- Distortions of Taurus are: greed, entitlement, lack of self-worth, material codependence, lack of perspective, fixed values based on a “frog-in-the-well” point of view, ethics/morality that is self-serving, possessiveness, inability to share, over-reliance on stability, leading to stuck-in the mud-position, and stagnation. Self-worth must stabilize.
- Distortions of Virgo are: analysis/paralysis, pity parties, blaming others, avoiding responsibility for one’s actions, victim/martyrdom, lack of discipline, inability to practice discernment, bad to a unrealistic goal of perfection, shame and guilt because of conditioning guilt because of comparisons shame and anger because of man-made limiting rules. Discerning between what is inherently good and what is bad or wrong must be realized before these distortions can raise up.
- Distortions of Capricorn are: status and conduct, illusions of grandeur leading to repression and suppression so that you can fit in or establish your domination over others. Lack of discipline, lack of self-direction, lack of self-determination and behaving in a submissive manner will trigger sado-masochistic scenarios that you must outgrow by overcoming guilt, the desire to be a member of a consensus collective/herd mentality. Power struggles must be seen as corrupt, abusive and intolerable.

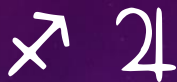

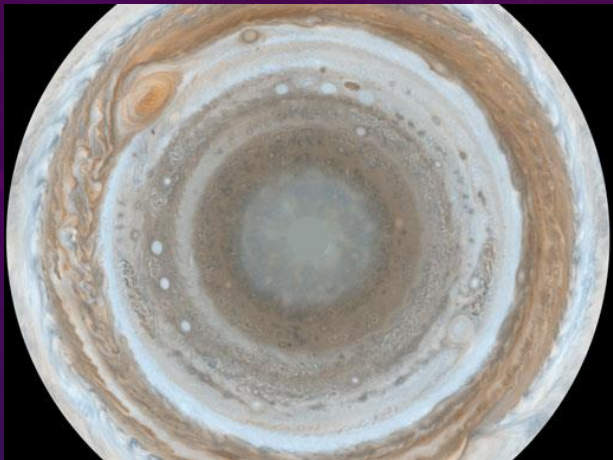

MARS

Rules Ascendant, Mars, Aries, 1st house correlate to the phenomenon of becoming – we are all in a perpetual state of becoming. JWG

- Planet Mars

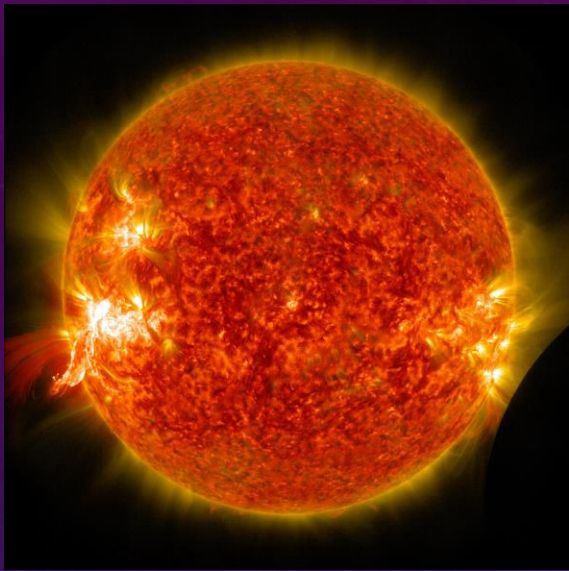

- Mars is the agent of the Soul. Mars works for Pluto, as a lower octave of the Pluto/Soul frequency to live out the desires the soul need to realize.
- “It’s tied to the primal brain. The sign that is on the 1st house, the house sign that Aries is in, the house and sign that Mars is in, all represent the types of desires we are aware of to connect with our evolutionary requirements.”
- Jeffrey Wolf Green

Jupiter

- In the consensus condition humanity's beliefs are informed by a need to feel secure and self-consistent. Jupiter rules the ability to form beliefs and then to expand them beyond the consensus condition aligning them eventually with experiential knowledge of the Cosmos.
- Religion = cosmological beliefs based on cultural standards, accepted norms.
- JUPITER is the teacher.
- Teaching involves sharing perspectives, sharing understanding, sharing knowledge. It is not imposing rules onto each other. The search for meaning, the desire to penetrate Natural Law, Mother Nature's Laws
- Once we make "the internal effort to actually KNOW that which is defined by the Natural Laws set in motion at the moment of the manifested Creation by the Source Of All Things" we are resonant with the higher frequency of Jupiter.
- From Jeffrey Wolf Green – www.schoolofevolutionaryastrology.com

JUPITER

THE SUN

- Luminary – The Sun

- The SUN is the principle behind “Carpe Diem”. Each day – with sunrise – we face ourselves and go about creatively actualizing our desire to live our true purpose.
- Special Destiny/Purpose are the EA keywords for the Sun. We all have chosen how to evolve and what work we want to do for our evolutionary momentum forward. This is the purpose of our life; to evolve. Along the way we will creatively self-actualize, as we learn how to co-create with the Cosmos.
- The Sun rules the 5h and LEO, gifting us with its daily light. This is sunlight, this is heart light or energy known as Amrita or ambrosia. It is the drink of the Devas, to attain a higher level of knowledge and power. It happens in a download of meditation or a transmission.
- Cyclically the Sun allows for us to deepen our creative destiny as we cyclically re-evaluate how to achieve our goals and fulfill our purpose.
- THE SUN shows us how we self-actualize our soul’s purpose. This is seen through sign and house placement of the Sun. We also must study the house where the sign LEO is located. We also study the aspects that the Sun makes to all the other Planets, Asteroids, Angles, Nodes, etc.

- Amrita is repeatedly referred to as the drink of the devas, which grants them immortality. Despite this, the nectar does not actually offer true immortality. Instead, by partaking it, the devas were able to attain a higher level of knowledge and power, which they had lost due to the curse of Sage Durvasa, as described in the samudra manthana legend. It tells how the devas, after the curse, begin to lose their immortality. Assisted by their rivals, the asuras, the devas begin to churn the ocean, releasing (among other extraordinary objects and beings) the amrita.^[3]

- Amrita is sometimes said to miraculously form on, or flow from, statues of Hindu gods. The substance is consumed by worshippers and is alleged to be sweet-tasting and not at all similar to honey or sugar water. Amrita was the last of the fourteen treasures that emerged from the churning of the ocean and contained in a pot borne by Dhanvantari, the physician of the devas
